

The Bleasdale Challenge

On Thursday 5th June 2014, to raise funds for The Prince's Trust, the Really Wild Clay Company is running a sporting clay shoot at Bleasdale Tower, Lancashire, by kind permission of Mr and Mrs Jake Duckworth.

The Really Wild Clay Company, part of the Royal County of Berkshire Shooting School, is the market leader in staging simulated clay days at the UK's finest estates.

Our Patron is The Lord Shuttleworth. Teams of 4 guns are invited to enter for the event and to come and enjoy this great day out at one of Lancashire's finest sporting estates. A stand on the moor will comprise simulated driven grouse, other stands will be even more challenging.

Team entry at £1900 covers breakfast, transport between stands in luxurious 4x4s courtesy of Bowker Motor Group, a post shoot luncheon prepared by Michelin starred chef Nigel Haworth following a champagne and canape reception.

The day concludes with an auction of special exclusive lots to raise funds for The Prince's Trust: presentation of prizes to the winning teams.

BASC North is honoured to work with Butterfly Ball Events. Bleasdale Challenge in aid of The Princes Trust.
